Executive Board — 100th Session
Rome, 15-17 September 2010

For: Information

Planned project activities including those proposed and approved under lapse-of-time procedure 2010-2011

1. At the second session of the Executive Board (EB/2), it was agreed that information on planned project activities would be presented to the Board regularly to enable members to keep abreast of developments in IFAD's project/programme pipeline and prospective lending and, should they so desire, to comment on planned operations at an appropriate stage of the development cycle.
2. To this end, part I of this document provides a comprehensive listing, by stage of processing and by region, of all projects and programmes that have entered the pipeline as part of the results-based country strategic opportunities programmes or after approval of the concept note. In addition, as communicated to the Executive Board in September 2003 (EB 2003/79/R.29/Rev.1), IFAD has made available on its public website – at www.ifad.org/operations/pipeline/index.htm – information on projects and programmes that have reached an advanced stage of design and are thus likely to be presented at a future session of the Board. Each of these operations is described in a two-page information note, which is updated on completion of each major step in the project cycle. As indicated to the Board at the ninety-seventh session (EB 2009/97/R.37), these two-page information notes will now be made available only in English and the language of the country concerned. Following discussions with Board members regarding the desirability of receiving information on new planned interventions well in advance, dates for future key country meetings are being provided to facilitate in-country discussion/consultation. Additional details of future country meetings and project- and programme-related documentation are available on request from the primary IFAD contact given in this document. Supplementary loans/grants that are part of approved, ongoing projects and are to be considered by the Board during the 2010 Board sessions are not reflected in the current document.
3. At the ninety-eighth session of the Executive Board held in December 2009, the Board endorsed the proposal to streamline the Executive Board's approval process for investment projects and programmes (EB 2009/98/R.15/Rev.1). For IFAD-funded projects/programmes the Fund would apply two approval procedures: (i) the lapse-of-time procedure; and (ii) the standard procedure. Under the lapse-of-time procedure, eligible proposals, which meet specific criteria, will be considered approved by the Executive Board if no request for formal discussion by the Executive Board is received by a specified deadline. Under the standard procedure, all IFAD-funded projects/programmes that do not fall under the lapse-of-time procedure will follow the existing standard procedure for Board approval.
4. To facilitate the implementation of this new process, it was agreed that the former Planned project activities document (now renamed Planned project activities including those proposed and approved under lapse-of-time procedure) would be enhanced by adding information on the proposed approval type. Therefore, part I-A of the document now contains a column showing the proposed approval type for each project/programme. Part I-B will now include information about projects/programmes (and supplementary loans/grants) that are currently proposed for approval through the lapse-of-time procedure and the estimated amounts. According to the lapse-of-time procedure, proposals for projects/programmes submitted by the President pursuant to article 7, section 2(c) of the Agreement Establishing IFAD shall be considered approved by the Executive Board if no request for consideration during a session of the Executive Board is received from any member within 30 days of the delivery of the document to the members. Part I-B will also provide a list of all projects/programmes (and supplementary loans/grants) approved by adopting the lapse-of-time procedure in the preceding period. This procedure has also been adopted for global/regional and country grants exceeding

US$500,000 and approved or to be approved through the lapse-of-time procedure in line with the recently revised grant policy (EB 2009/98/R.9/Rev.1).

5. In September 2006, the Executive Board approved a new framework for a results-based country strategic opportunities programme (COSOP), as provided in document EB 2006/88/R.4. The results-based COSOPs will also serve as the vehicle for entry of projects/programmes into IFAD's official pipeline. Some of these pipeline projects/programmes will be processed within the current 2010-2012 cycle of the performance-based allocation system (PBAS), while others will be included in subsequent PBAS allocation periods. Part II provides information on planned COSOPs and subregional strategic opportunities programmes (SRESOPs) and, where available, identifies dates of forthcoming country meetings and stakeholder consultation meetings.<sup>1</sup>
6. As agreed at the Board session in April 2001 (EB 2001/72/R.28), part III of this document provides information on all COSOPs and SRESOPs reviewed to date by the Operational Strategy and Policy Guidance Committee (OSC) as well as those reviewed by the Board.

Overview

7. This document includes 62 projects/programmes that are in IFAD's official pipeline – others will be identified during the course of the year. This pipeline is broadly in line with the expected number of pipeline projects at any one time.
8. In terms of geographical distribution, the pipeline includes 10 projects/programmes in Western and Central Africa, 12 in Eastern and Southern Africa, 17 in Asia and the Pacific, 12 in Latin America and the Caribbean and 10 in the Near East and North Africa region.
9. IFAD also foresees presenting supplementary loans/grants in the context of ongoing projects: Community-based Agricultural and Rural Development Programme (Nigeria), Participatory Smallholder Agriculture and Artisanal Fisheries Development Programme (Sao Tome and Principe), Rehabilitation and Community-based Poverty Reduction Project (Sierra Leone) and Programme for the Mobilization of Surface Water and Sustainable Land Management (Djibouti). In addition, complementary contributions from Sweden are foreseen for three projects: Rural Rehabilitation and Community Development Project (Guinea Bissau), Northern Regions Investment and Rural Development Programme (Mali) and Smallholder Agribusiness Promotion Programme (Zambia).
10. IFAD is currently proposing to use the lapse-of-time procedure for the approval of four projects/programmes for a total of US$13.97 million. It is also proposing to use the same approval mechanism for global/regional grants for a total of US$31.9 million. All proposals are subject to quality enhancement/quality assurance (QE/QA) review (for more details see part I-B).
11. In line with IFAD's mandate, future interventions will continue focusing on priority areas as identified in the IFAD Strategic Framework 2007-2010 and the relevant results-based COSOPs or concept notes. While food security will remain a major concern in future investments as highlighted in the September 2009 Board document (EB 2009/97/R.37), especially in parts of sub-Saharan Africa, IFAD will increase its efforts to address problems related to the impacts of land degradation and climate change on agriculture, which is the main source of livelihood for most poor rural people. It is also enhancing its approach to rural development in the context of these threats. This commitment is reflected in the adoption of the IFAD Climate Change Strategy (EB 2010/99/R.2/Rev.1) and the establishment of an Environment and Climate Change Division within the Programme Management Department. Some examples of future interventions that will seek to improve natural resource management, among other areas, and introduce measures for climate change adaptation are illustrated in the following paragraphs.

<sup>1</sup> Countries with minimal PBAS allocations or where a small country programme is envisaged will not require a COSOP. Instead, the information that would normally be included in a COSOP will be incorporated into the relevant sections of any project design document (paragraph 27, EB 2006/88/R.4).

12. In Western and Central Africa, the Agricultural Development Support Programme for Togo will sponsor activities having a positive impact on natural resource conservation and environmental protection. It will promote techniques to improve soil fertility: integrated management of soil fertility (GIFS), soil and water conservation, and research activities focused on adaptation to climate change. The IFAD-initiated Rehabilitation and Community-based Poverty Reduction Project Plus in Sierra Leone is expecting to integrate adaptation to climate change into agricultural production and food security in Sierra Leone. To this end, the project foresees a least developed countries fund (LDCF) component in support of implementation of the country's National Adaptation Programme of Action (NAPA) through: (i) sustainable development of climate-resilient inland valley swamps; (ii) promotion of integrated water and natural resource management for adaptation; and (iii) capacity-building (including the rehabilitation of agricultural meteorological stations). It also contemplates using participatory approaches such as farmer field schools and rural radio networks to build awareness and incorporate local and external technical knowledge into practical means for enhancing the resilience of cropping systems to climate variability.
13. In Eastern and Southern Africa, one of the objectives of the IFAD-cofinanced Agricultural Technology and Agribusiness Advisory Services Project in Uganda will be to help reduce climate and land degradation risks to production and productivity. Through a Global Environment Facility (GEF) grant, the project expects to promote sustainable land management and strengthen the institutional capacity of the Ministry of Agriculture, Animal Industries and Fisheries to coordinate practice and policy on land degradation and climate risks.
14. In Asia and the Pacific, the IFAD-initiated Market and Pasture Management Development Project in Mongolia will promote, among other objectives, the establishment of value chains for agricultural products through producer group formation, skill training, business plan development and the promotion of business linkages. It will also provide resources for implementation of the pasture management plans of herder groups and of specific measures to increase the capacity of herders to cope with climate change impacts and to manage pastoral risks. The GEF, through the Special Climate Change Fund (SCCF), is providing additional funding to carry out innovative actions for adaptation to climate change, including piloting a communal, index-based livestock insurance mechanism and implementation of a livestock early-warning system for climatic risks in the project area. The IFAD-cofinanced Integrated Natural Resources and Environmental Management Project for the Philippines will address environmental degradation, especially in fragile ecosystems such as the uplands. It expects to reduce and reverse the severe environmental degradation taking place in four representative river basins with 23 watersheds. It will provide incentives to reduce emissions of greenhouse gases through forest conservation, sustainable forest management and the enhancement of carbon stocks. Cofinancing is expected from the SCCF and the GEF.
15. In Latin America and the Caribbean, the IFAD-initiated Programme for Local Development Support in Highland and Higher Rainforest Areas for Peru will provide incentives for local development that include, among others, improving natural resources management (to be implemented through the proven competitive awards methodology known as Pacha Mama Raymi) and water management. Cofinancing possibilities are being explored with the GEF to implement complementary activities for improving the sustainable management of natural resources and the strengthening of municipal protected areas. In El Salvador, one of the activities to be supported through the IFAD-initiated Rural Territorial Competitiveness

Programme is rehabilitation/conservation of rural communities' land, water and other natural resources. The programme will promote soil and water conservation works and the introduction of farming techniques/crop varieties appropriate to dry regions and a pilot project on payment for environmental services (PES). It will include a subcomponent involving a fund for food security and adaptation to climate change. Collaboration on PES and climate change activities is being discussed with the GEF.

16. In the Near East and North Africa, the IFAD-initiated Integrated Livestock Development Project in Syria will address natural resource constraints, especially water scarcity and land degradation, through specific interventions, namely: (i) re-seeding 88,000 hectares on different sites; (ii) planting 56,000 hectares of rangelands with fodder shrubs; (iii) resting some 42,000 hectares of degraded rangelands combined with water-harvesting techniques; and (iv) adoption of controlled pasture management. In the Sudan, in relation to climate change and in order to increase household resilience to drought, the technological packages promoted by the IFAD-initiated Project Supporting Small-scale Traditional Rainfed Producers in Sennar State present the following features: (i) the crop mix has different water requirements, thus spreading the risk of shortage in rainfall; (ii) the proposed boundary tree planting will modify the microclimate and reduce the evapotranspiration, in addition to arresting and reversing the downward spiral of natural resource degradation; (iii) soil tillage methods will be modified so as to capture rainfall better in the root zone, which will provide enough water to replenish the root moisture content and to reduce the impact of frequent dry periods during the growing season; (iv) drought-resistant varieties of staple crops will be introduced and selected on the basis of their resistance to drought and their adaptation to the new rainfall pattern. Moreover, the project will establish a network of 23 rain gauges and a total weather station will be used to monitor rainfall. It is expected that soil and water conservation techniques will be introduced in about 94,000 feddans, representing 44 per cent of the area under traditional rainfed agriculture in the project area.
17. The current session of the Board will review the COSOP for Côte d'Ivoire. The COSOPs for Senegal and India are currently scheduled for presentation to the December 2010 Board session.
