Rome, 14-16 December 2010

For: Approval
Recommendation for approval

It is recommended that the Executive Board approve the provisions of the memorandum of understanding entered into by the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) and the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) on 19 October 2010.

Memorandum of understanding between IFAD and the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA)

1. On 19 October 2010, IFAD entered into a memorandum of understanding with the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) for the purpose of providing a framework for enhancing collaboration on activities of common interest, such as the financing of country-level investments and capacity strengthening, policy dialogue and knowledge management, in addition to dialogue and advocacy at the country, regional and international levels. The memorandum will remain in force for a period of eight years.

2. Considering that IFAD and JICA have already collaborated with each other in the context of the Coalition for African Rice Development (CARD) initiative, and aim to strengthen cooperation between them and foster common strategies to achieve a greater impact on food security and poverty reduction in Africa, this collaboration will focus on: (i) rice-related research, investments, market linkages and value chain development; (ii) engagement in country-led processes such as policy dialogue, capacity-building and institutional development of relevance to the CARD initiative; and (iii) promotion of South-South cooperation.

3. The Executive Board is invited to approve the provisions of the memorandum of understanding.

4. A copy of the signed memorandum of understanding is provided in the annex.
MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING between the
INTERNATIONAL FUND FOR AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT and the
JAPAN INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION AGENCY

This Memorandum of Understanding (hereinafter referred to as the “MoU”) is entered into between the International Fund for Agricultural Development (hereinafter referred to as “IFAD”) and the Japan International Cooperation Agency (hereinafter referred to as “JICA”).

WHEREAS, IFAD is a specialized agency of the United Nations with a mandate to mobilize additional resources to be made available on concessional terms for agricultural development in its developing Member States. In fulfilling this objective, IFAD provides financing primarily for projects and programmes specifically designed to introduce, expand or improve food production systems and to strengthen related policies and institutions within the framework of national priorities and strategies.

WHEREAS, JICA is an incorporated administrative agency implementing Official Development Assistance of the Government of Japan for the promotion of international cooperation as well as the sound development of the global economy by supporting the socioeconomic development, recovery or economic stability of developing regions of the world, and is now strongly committed to rural development in Africa.

CONSIDERING THAT, having recognised the increasing importance of rice production in Africa, JICA launched the Coalition for African Rice Development (hereinafter referred to as “CARD”) initiative at TICAD IV held in May 2008, based on a consultative group of bilateral and multilateral development partners and African and international institutions, with the aim of doubling rice production in Sub-Saharan Africa by 2018.
