Proposed loan and grant to the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam for the Project for the Sustainable Economic Empowerment of Ethnic Minorities in Dak Nong Province (3EM)

I. The project

A. Main development opportunity addressed by the project

1. In Viet Nam today, there is a need to narrow the growing gap between ethnic minority groups and the Kinh majority. This project aims to develop the key development potential of ethnic minorities in Dak Nong Province. Rather than promoting subsistence farming, the project will improve the agronomic and market conditions for food and cash crops. There are opportunities in existing value chains to improve the net value in the hands of farmers through primary processing, storage, group marketing, etc. Furthermore, the project will support the development of alternative value chains for higher value products. Access to credit will enable women to choose activities that will increase the asset base of poor households and build resilience.

B. Proposed financing

Terms and conditions

2. It is proposed that IFAD provide to the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam a loan in the amount of SDR 12.8 million (equivalent to approximately US$19.4 million), on highly concessional terms, and a grant in the amount of SDR 0.33 million (equivalent to approximately US$0.5 million) to help finance the Project for the Sustainable Economic Empowerment of Ethnic Minorities in Dak Nong Province (3EM). The loan will have a term of 40 years, including a grace period of 10 years, with a service charge of three fourths of one per cent (0.75 per cent) per annum.

Relationship to the IFAD performance-based allocation system (PBAS)

3. The allocation defined for the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam under the PBAS is US$68.75 million over the 2012 allocation cycle.

Relationship to national medium-term expenditure framework criteria

4. The project will be aligned with the provincial Socio-economic Development Plan (SEDP), which is the basis for the medium-term expenditure framework for the province.

Country debt burden and absorptive capacity of the State

5. Gross domestic product (GDP) in 2008 was equivalent to US$89.8 billion. In 2009, growth dropped to 3.3 per cent but is expected to recover to 6.5 per cent by 2012. The country's public debt will represent an estimated 46 per cent of GDP in 2010, but as much of it is on concessional terms, its present value will remain below 20 per cent of GDP.

Flow of funds

6. Accounts designated to receive advance loan and grant resources may be established at the Ministry of Finance at the Ministry's request. Transfers will be made to the project account established at the Provincial Treasury of Dak Nong Province.

Supervision arrangements

7. IFAD will directly supervise the project.

Exceptions to IFAD General Conditions for Agricultural Development Financing and operational policies

8. No exceptions are foreseen.

Governance

9. The following planned measures are intended to enhance the governance aspects of the IFAD financing: (i) establishment of a project steering committee chaired by the chairpersons of the province and district people's committees, representing the implementing agencies; (ii) two years into implementation, a project review to include target group satisfaction surveys; and (iii) participatory monitoring and evaluation (M&E) at commune level to encourage active participation by all households.

C. Target group and participation

Target group

10. The primary target group is indigenous and migrant ethnic minorities, with a particular emphasis on women, in the poorest communes of Dak Nong Province. Poor and low-income Kinh families in the project area are also considered part of the target group.

Targeting approach

11. The three main modes of targeting are: (i) geographical targeting based on the national poverty line;¹ (ii) self-targeting based on project activities that primarily respond to the financial and labour capacity and livelihood strategies of target groups; and (iii) direct targeting based on inclusion and exclusion criteria to separate the poor from the non-poor.

Participation

12. A participatory planning process will be facilitated in each village, reflecting the respective priorities of women and men. Village development plans supported by the project will help ensure participation by the target group in identifying and planning investments in infrastructure and agricultural extension support. The district and provincial authorities will officially recognize the participatory method and undertake a firm commitment to spend project funds accordingly.

D. Development objectives

Key project objectives

13. The project goal is to contribute to a sustainable improvement in the livelihoods of poor and ethnic minority households in Dak Nong Province. The purpose of the project is to increase the incomes of poor and near poor ethnic minority households, with a particular focus on women.

Policy and institutional objectives

14. The project will contribute to strengthening provincial institutions to work with ethnic minority groups, particularly women, in a participatory manner and to integrate their priorities into the Government planning process. The project will also develop the Government's capacity to develop demand-led value chains in which farmers can improve their net returns by raising the quality of their products. The project will promote empowerment of people to escape poverty through collective action, i.e. by setting up joint liability groups and savings and credit associations.

IFAD policy and strategy alignment

15. The project is in line with the country strategic opportunities programme of December 2008 and the guidelines set forth in the IFAD Policy on Engagement with Indigenous Peoples.

¹ The criteria applied are defined by the national definition of the poverty line, which up to 2009 was defined as 200,000 dong/month, and has been increased to 350,000 dong/month as of 2010.

E. Harmonization and alignment

Alignment with national priorities

16. The proposed project is aligned with the new rural development strategy of the Government of Viet Nam, which sets targets for improving the quality and competitiveness of local commodities, enhancing linkages between rural producers and markets, and promoting decentralization and participation in decision-making.

Harmonization with development partners

17. The project will build on the village development planning processes and sector-building initiatives of the Agricultural and Rural Development Sector Programme Support provided by the Danish International Development Assistance (DANIDA), the OXFAM-supported Livelihoods Programme and the Environmental Protection and Management of Natural Resources in Dak Nong Province Project funded by the German Agency for Technical Cooperation (GTZ).

F. Components and expenditure categories

Main components

18. The project has three components: (i) ethnic minority livelihood development; (ii) rural financial services; and (iii) project management.

Expenditure categories

19. The expenditure categories are: (i) community infrastructure investments; (ii) tools, equipment and materials; (iii) vehicles; (iv) technical assistance, training, studies and workshops; (v) credit; (vi) Women's Union microgrants; and (vii) recurrent costs.

G. Management, implementation responsibilities and partnerships

Key implementing partners

20. Provincial, district and commune people's committees, the Department of Planning and Investment, the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, the Viet Nam Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (AGRIBANK), the provincial Farmer's Union and Women's Union are the key implementing partners.

Implementation responsibilities

21. The Department of Agriculture and Rural Development will be responsible for the implementation of the agriculture extension programme and value chain development. The Department of Planning and Investment will be responsible for implementation of participatory planning, and commune people's committees will be the investment owner for community infrastructure. AGRIBANK is to implement collateral-free short- and medium-term lending to joint liability groups; the Women's Union and the Farmers' Union will support the training of joint liability groups in collaboration with AGRIBANK. The Women's Union will assist the formation and operations of women's savings and loan associations and manage a revolving fund.

Role of technical assistance

22. For the delivery of sustainable agriculture extension activities, short term-technical assistance in sustainable and/or organic fertilizer production, organic farming systems and livestock development will be provided. To implement the innovative approach to value chain development, a national agribusiness specialist and an international agribusiness advisor for short-term assignments will be recruited. Specialized training consultants (hired by AGRIBANK) will carry out group member training in credit operations and group procedures in the villages. International and national technical assistance will support the Women's Union in operationalizing the Women's Economic Opportunities Fund (WEOF). A technical assistance management advisor will provide support in the initial three years and a gender specialist will advise the project management unit on a part-time basis.

Status of key implementation agreements

23. The IFAD financing agreement will govern project implementation. A project implementation manual will be developed following entry into force of the financing agreement.

Key financing partners and amounts committed

24. The total project cost is US$23.8 million over six years. The sources of financing are the IFAD loan (81.3 per cent), IFAD grant (1.9 per cent), AGRIBANK (3.7 per cent), Government (9.6 per cent) and beneficiaries (2.7 per cent). A cofinancier is being sought for technical assistance (0.8 per cent).

H. Benefits and economic and financial justificationMain categories of benefits generated

25. The main benefits will accrue to poor farmers applying sustainable agricultural practices in crop and livestock production and improving their net margins while reducing the negative impact of agriculture on the environment.

Economic and financial viability

26. The overall economic internal rate of return (EIRR) of the project is estimated at over 65 per cent; a sensitivity analysis shows that a 20 per cent drop in income would reduce the EIRR to 48 per cent.

I. Knowledge management, innovation and scaling upKnowledge management arrangements

27. The project will identify a knowledge management officer in the project management unit. At least one knowledge product will be developed each year by the project. The IFAD Hanoi office/field presence will organize events to capture knowledge, i.e. exchange visits between projects, country programme reviews and knowledge trade fairs.

Development innovations that the project will promote

28. Innovative features include the targeting of sustainable agricultural practices based on low external input and organic agricultural practices; development of produce value chains with high returns based on the identification of companies and buyers, development of a business plan; establishment of producer groups/common interest groups encompassing poor and better-off farmers and linking them to end buyers; and acceptance of joint liability for loans from AGRIBANK.

Scaling-up approach

29. Project implementation will focus on capacity-building in the first two years. By ensuring gradual institutional strengthening, it is expected that by the project's end the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development will have internalized sustainable agricultural practices, value chain development and working with the private sector. Participatory village-level planning processes for community infrastructure will be mainstreamed into the SEDP.

J. Main risksMain risks and mitigation measures

30. The project faces three main risks: (i) a change in priorities for development of ethnic minorities; (ii) insufficient competent human resources and weak capacity at provincial, district and commune levels; and (iii) possible negative impact of bauxite mining activities on the livelihoods of the target group in the project area. To address these risks, the project will recruit additional staff on a contract basis for assignment to the implementing agencies. Full implementation will take place only after an initial phase of capacity-building. No communes in which bauxite mining activities take place shall be eligible for participation in the project. IFAD will monitor the development of bauxite mining in the project areas to protect the interests of the project target group. Should the development of bauxite mining have a direct or indirect negative impact on the project activities, the borrower/recipient will introduce appropriate mitigating measures to safeguard the livelihood of the affected target population. If these measures are not introduced, IFAD will adjust the project activities to provide the affected minorities with alternative livelihood options that are not affected by the bauxite mining. Failure to reach agreement with the borrower on the adjustment of project activities will lead to (full or partial) loan cancellation

Environmental classification

31. Pursuant to IFAD's environmental assessment procedures, the project has been classified as a Category A operation in view of the environmental sensitivity of bauxite mining activities in Dak Nong Province.

K. Sustainability

32. Sustainability will be ensured through available biomass for compost preparation by household enterprises. Community infrastructure operated and maintained by village or commune management boards will improve market access and productivity through access roads and small-scale irrigation. Based on assessments of credit performance, individual group members may become regular clients of AGRIBANK when their credit needs exceed the project loan ceiling. The Women's Union revolving fund will evolve into a sustainable microfinance institution serving women's groups.

II. Legal instruments and authority

33. A project financing agreement between the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam and IFAD will constitute the legal instrument for extending the proposed financing to the borrower/recipient. A copy of the negotiated financing agreement is attached as an annex.
34. The Socialist Republic of Viet Nam is empowered under its laws to receive financing from IFAD.
35. I am satisfied that the proposed financing will comply with the Agreement Establishing IFAD and the Lending Policies and Criteria.

III. Recommendation

36. I recommend that the Executive Board approve the proposed financing in terms of the following resolution:

RESOLVED: that the Fund shall make a loan on highly concessional terms to the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam in an amount equivalent to twelve million eight hundred thousand special drawing rights (SDR 12,800,000) and upon such terms and conditions as shall be substantially in accordance with the terms and conditions presented herein.

RESOLVED FURTHER: that the Fund shall provide a grant to the Socialist Republic of Viet Nam in an amount equivalent to three hundred and thirty thousand special drawing rights (SDR 330,000) and upon such terms and conditions as shall be substantially in accordance with the terms and conditions presented herein.
