

Applicable for the Second Quarter of 2023

Introduction

IFAD hereby publishes the following information for the second quarter (Q2) of 2023:

- A. Ordinary and intermediate term loans – approved before 1 January 2019: spread
- B. Ordinary term loans – approved between 1 January 2019 and 31 December 2021: spread
- C. Ordinary term loans – approved after 1 January 2022: spread
- D. Blend term loans – approved after 15 February 2019: service charge and interest rate
- E. Highly concessional loans - approved after 15 February 2019: service charge
- F. Super highly concessional loans – approved after 1 January 2022: service charge

The spreads and interest rates provided below are applicable for the period 1 April 2023 to 30 June 2023.

Evolution of IFAD pricing

As of January 2019, IFAD recalculates its annual interest rate each quarter effective from the first day of January, April, July and October, respectively.

As of February 2019, IFAD introduced differentiated currency-specific service charges and interest rates for blend term loans and currency-specific service charges for highly concessional term loans.

As of January 2022, IFAD introduced new country categories and respective maturity premiums for ordinary loans, and a new financial product (super highly concessional loans).

As of 1 April 2022, IFAD replaced the 6-month USD LIBOR rate with an overnight (O/N) SOFR rate for loans denominated in USD and SDR. IFAD applies O/N SOFR on a one-day lookback basis on the available rate, with daily compounding.

The daily O/N SOFR rate is published on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York website every day at 8 a.m. (Eastern Time) for the previous day. As the O/N SOFR is a backward-looking rate, this reference is not available on the first business day of the respective quarter.

IFAD is publishing the spread to be applied over loans by currency of denomination.

Daily O/N SOFR rates can be found here: <https://www.newyorkfed.org/markets/reference-rates/sofr>

Elements of ordinary loan pricing

The IFAD reference rate applicable to loans on ordinary and intermediate terms is based on:

- A reference rate dependent on the currency denomination of the loan (daily compounded O/N SOFR in arrears for USD, 6-month EURIBOR for EUR, SDR-weighted LIBOR for SDR).
- A spread that may contain adjustments for:
 - loan denomination currency;
 - average repayment maturity;
 - country income category.

For the purpose of determining the income category of the borrower, IFAD will classify the borrower as follows:

- For loans approved between 1 January 2019 and 31 December 2021, by applying four income categories: A, B, C, D. This classification can be viewed using the following link: www.ifad.org/en/document-detail/asset/41030654.
- For loans approved from 1 January 2022, by applying four new income categories: 1, 2, 3, 4. This classification can be viewed using the following link: <https://www.ifad.org/en/-/document/ifad-financing-terms-fy22>.

Examples of how the IFAD interest rate for ordinary loans is calculated are presented in annex I.

New market reference rates for all ordinary loans

On 1 April 2022, IFAD replaced the following market reference rates:

- 6-month USD LIBOR replaced with the daily compounded O/N SOFR;
- 6-month GBP LIBOR replaced with the daily compounded O/N SONIA;
- 6-month JPY LIBOR replaced with the daily compounded O/N TONA.

This affects all loans denominated in USD and SDR; therefore, the change is applied also retroactively to all loans under sections A, B and C below.

The 6-month EURIBOR will continue to be applied for loans denominated in EUR.

The 6-month SHIBOR will continue to be applied for loans denominated in SDR for the SDR-weighted market reference rate.

^c Based on the new currency amounts in the SDR basket (updated in August 2022) and IMF exchange rate for SDR at the beginning of the period (https://www.imf.org/external/np/fin/data/rms_five.aspx).

¹ Effective from 1 August 2022, IMF applied the new amount of each currency in the SDR basket. This is now reflected in the calculation of the SDR reference rate.

A. Spread for ordinary and intermediate term loans – approved before 1 January 2019

Table 3 - Ordinary and intermediate term loans – approved before 1 January 2019

Spread over market reference rate	SDR	USD	EUR
Ordinary	0.97%	1.00%	0.97%
Intermediate	0.49%	0.50%	0.49%

- The spread for ordinary loans is calculated as a sum of: (i) IBRD average funding spread; (ii) IBRD maturity premium (see below); and (iii) IBRD contractual spread.
- For loans approved before 1 January 2019, IFAD applies the IBRD maturity premium of “Group A” and average maturity bucket of “Greater than 18 years to 20 years”.
- Values for the above elements can be found here.
- For all ordinary term loans interest accrues on an actual/360 day-count convention.

B. Spread for ordinary term loans – approved between 1 January 2019 and 31 December 2021 in USD and EUR²

- The IFAD reference rate for ordinary loans consists of a variable market reference rate (O/N SOFR - EURIBOR) and a spread.
- The final interest rate for ordinary loans reflects the combination of the selected loan denomination currency, the nature of the spread (variable or fixed), the average repayment maturity premium and the country income categorization.
- IFAD no longer offers new loans on fixed spread. For the fixed spread loans approved between 1 January 2019 and 31 December 2021, all previously applied spreads remain fixed. The only variable element is the market reference rate, which will be updated as per table 1.
- The spreads indicated below for loans denominated in USD and EUR are calculated as a sum of: (i) IBRD average funding spread; (ii) IBRD contractual spread; and (iii) the corresponding IBRD maturity premium.
- Values for the above elements can be found here.
- For all ordinary term loans interest accrues on an actual/360 day-count convention.

C. Spread for ordinary term loans – approved after 1 January 2022 in USD and EUR

- IFAD updated the differentiation of maturity premia.
- IFAD suspended the fixed spread for ordinary loans for the IFAD12 period.
- IFAD discontinued the offer of ordinary term loans denominated in SDR.
- The spreads indicated below for loans denominated in USD and EUR are calculated as a sum of: (i) IBRD average funding spread; (ii) IBRD contractual spread; and (iii) the corresponding IFAD maturity premium.
- Values for the IBRD average funding spread and contractual spread can be found here.
- Values for the corresponding IFAD maturity premium can be found here.
- For all ordinary term loans interest accrues on an actual/360 day-count convention.
